Halloween Hash - Handicap League Table - Doggy's Canterbury Run -
Beachy Head Marathon - Away Trip to Ljubljana -
H4 CrosHHHHword Pizzle

A message from the Chair....

For the hashing club which doesn't hash as often as we'd like, it's great to have been hashing twice in the past week. An eggcellent Halloween Hash on Tuesday will be remembered alongside other brilliant spooky H4 hashes. Well done POTTY. And we chased it down with the GASH Hash on Sunday.

Lots of runners have been out at autumn races in the past month. Well done to those who took on Beachy Head, Kent Cross Country League and all who survived the away trip to Slovenia. Write ups from all of those feature below, as well as journalistic excellence from Doggy regarding his Canterbury Run. With Christmas round the corner we are now looking forward to a new addition to the calendar with a Kids Christmas Hash (details TBC) and the Santa Hash on 17th December.

As a reminder, the Mis-Management Group will meet on the second Tuesday of every month. If you have anything to raise with us please do let myself or SICKNOTE know ahead of time.

On on,
EMBAA

SAVE THE DATE Harvel 5 2024

The Harvel 5 2024 takes place on Saturday 1st June and will be the event's 25th Anniversary. The event is a key date in the calendar for the club and requires significant assistance from club members to make the day a success. We kindly ask that all members try to keep the date free to help out. Newer members are eligible to run in the race. Please make yourselves known to SICKNOTE, when entries open in the new year, if you joined H4 since June 2023.

As well as helping on the day there will be call outs soon for club ideas and input on the theme of the day, medal, trophy and merchandise designs. Please do get involved.

Doggy's Canterbury Run

On Saturday 16th September our merry band of pilgrims set off on our fourth run to Canterbury - not so much a pilgrimage as a 43 mile pub crawl. Setting off from H.Q. in bright sunshine we trotted down Holly Hill and picked up the Pilgrim's Way heading east via Upper Halling and were met on Peter's Bridge by our gallant, and indispensable, support crew for a photo' session. From there, in steadily increasing temperatures, we ran on to the first 'service station', The Windmill in Burham where we were made very welcome - they even put £20 in our collection bucket. It's a shame that we lack that spirit of generosity in the victualer industry within our village.

Moving on, through Eccles, we became aware of the unusually heavy volume of oncoming traffic but, undaunted, we pressed on through Boxley Country Park. Emerging from the park, onto a short section of road, the traffic was horrendous if not downright dangerous. Mercifully it was only a couple of hundred yards before we were back on the single track section of the route and on we went in comparative safety even though the traffic was abnormally heavy. On our arrival at Detling, and the Cock Horse, we enjoyed a refresher and discovered the reason for the clogged up roads; apparently, the M2 was closed, the M20 had restricted flow due to a breakdown and there was a huge dog show at Kent Showground just up the hill from Detling.

Suitably refreshed, we set off for the final five miles of the day, in by now blistering heat, plodding on to the final stop - the Windmill at Hollingbourne. Unfortunately for us, there was a large event being hosted there which put us at a disadvantage in two respects; the garden was out of bounds to us and the service at the bar was painfully slow. However, once we all had a glass in our hand we adjourned to the fore court and raised those glasses in memory of Tom before heading home for the night. The following morning three intrepid athletes left Harvel on foot and about three hours later the rest of us left in the support crew's cars and headed back to Hollingbourne where we regrouped at the sorry remains of the Dirty Habit, our traditional Saturday finish and Sunday re-start venue. The three heroic athletes caught us up there and, reunited, off we set again, now off road and this time under cloudy skies; much more conducive to distance running than the previous day. At five miles our ever reliable support squad met us at the viewpoint on Hubbards Hill near Lenham, the only 'service station' along the way without a pub, but with drinks and jelly babies on board.

Ever onward for eight miles, which included a light shower of welcome refreshing rain, to Boughton Aluph and the Flying Horse next to the village green where a cricket match was underway. Leaving there, one more mile of Pilgrim's Way before picking up the North Downs Way and the dreaded ascent of the escarpment. Discretion being the better part of valour, a couple of us less youthful participants elected to blag a lift to the final staging post, the White Horse in the square at Chilham. That dodge saved our legs and increased the pace of the pack but in so doing we missed the run from the top of the Downs through the beautiful ancient woodland, a sacrifice worth making.

On to the final leg through Chartham to the Stour valley Way with its excellent flat running surface and the tranquility of the river immediately alongside before regrouping in the Westgate Towers gardens. Now for the final push, up the High Street, turn left and tumble into the square outside Canterbury Cathedral gates and the Old Buttermarket pub - what a welcome sight. After a pint (or two) we composed ourselves and repeated the tribute to Tom, not just because some runners were not with us on Saturday and the first tribute but also because he thoroughly deserved it.

My thanks to all who were any part of this madcap venture whether they be donors, well wishers, runners or support crew which this time has raised £1485 for the Ellenor Hospice.

To paraphrase the words of John Bunyan,

He who would valiant be 'gainst all disaster
Run the road to Canterbury then come back plastered
There's no discouragement, will make him once relent,
His first avowed intent, to be a Hasher

Should we do it again one day?

DOGGY

Away Marathon 2023

Day One - Harvel to Ljubljana

15 tourists met at 10am at Harvel Village Hall resplendent in their new, red Dragon polo shirts - the dragon is the symbol of Ljubljana city.

1 - Spot the dragon

DATA had succeeded in already upsetting DAME who gets stressed travelling by deciding to take a work call just as they were leaving the house. DATA takes an early lead in the "Don't Upset Your Partner" league table although he was later to get strong competition from NODDY, WALLY and ENGINE.

Next stop Gatwick security.

- ENGINE's knees do set off the metal detector - any excuse to get frisked.
- LITTLE UNT seemed to disappear into his own separate security check!!!
- DATA further upsets DAME by forgetting to tell her that the water bottle he had put in her rucksack still has water in it. DAME not so pleased to get frisked!

Pre-flight drinks at Spoons (compulsory) before boarding.

As we take our seats on the plane NODDY suddenly realises he has no mobile phone. The idiot has lost it somewhere between Pret and Spoons. As a result, NODDY is rightly ridiculed throughout remainder of trip and somewhat surprisingly did not get stroppy despite, later in the trip, being presented with a chocolate iPhone.

Further drinks during the flight - LITTLE UNT refers to his intake of 4 miniatures of Dead Men's Fingers by saying "I've had 4 black fingers".

SCREAMER replies by saying "I've had more than that!". Nobody seems shocked by either statement.

Arrival in Ljubljana - short taxi ride to the superbly located City Hotel (only 200m off marathon and 10k route) - runners head to Stožice Stadium to register.

Whole party reconvene for evening drinks and food at our spiritual home and go-to hostel for the trip - Pops Bar (yes, it is called that). MUFFIN completely ignores large queue for tables and reserved sign on largest table by securing that table and seats for all of us. What a blagger - the woman has no shame!!

Day Two -Ljubljana Sightseeing

Highlights - Small but beautiful city centre, river boat trip, mooch around Ljubljana market, funicular ride up to Castle, superb views from highest Castle tower to the mountains that surround Ljubljana, man with pet emu in main Square??

Lowlights - Inappropriate behaviour from DOUBLE ENTRY in the Puppetry Museum! Karen Wallace - new hash name - WEBBED FEET - because she comes from Sheppey, dives headfirst down steps outside toilets, in an effort to knock herself out. NODDY decides he doesn't want to pay 50 cents to go to the loo so limbos under the barrier but then goes into ladies toilet!

During the afternoon when rain put in a brief appearance some tourists were testing how much cheesecake they could eat - another common theme of the weekend. The other tourists were competing in the Ljubljana Crazy Golf Championships at Tivoli Park. Surprisingly victory went to LITTLE UNT/TIGER BARRY who finished one shot ahead of THE BADGER. The supposed golfers ENGINE and NODDY finished last and second to last respectively.

The evening comprised of carb-loading for the runners at Aroma Italian restaurant and watching the rugby at an Irish bar. Drinking was only punctuated by ENGINE deciding he was better at upsetting DAME than DATA was. ENGINE indicated that DAME wasn't in a drinks whip with a dismissive wave of the hand and saying "be gone". DAME unsurprisingly reacted somewhat negatively and left the bar - ENGINE was quickly advised to chase after her to apologise. ENGINE was subsequently reminded of his inappropriate actions at every opportunity and latterly the two parties who awarded the prize of Mr. Israel and Little Miss. Gaza.

Day Three - Run Day

Our team of 7 runners assembled for breakfast minus LITTLE UNT who was still pissed from the night before.

The team of 8 supporters headed off in various directions to see the runners across the three courses.

A few hours later the following H4 club records had been set:

Fastest Ljubljana Marathon time - DATA

Fastest Ljubljana Half-Marathon time - BELLE END

Fastest Ljubljana 10K time - NODDY

Slowest 10K time by anybody, anywhere, ever - LITTLE UNT

The most poos ever during a half marathon - Mrs Tumble. The tourists strongly recommend that Mrs Tumble be now renamed Winnie (or BARE)

It's not just bears!

Special recognition for CAT FLAP - who from henceforth would like to be renamed Goldilocks as she ran with Winnie throughout and obediently waited when Winnie disappeared into the woods yet again!

The evening consisted of an excellent Club meal at Julijas restaurant - lots to eat and drink and down downs. A "tired and emotional" SCREAMER had to be escorted home by DAME, MUFFIN and BELLE END - whilst the rest finished the evening with yet more drinks and some Sambuca shots at the Cutty Sark pub.

Day Four - Lake Bled

After a few issues sorting bus tickets the whole group journeyed one hour to the stunningly beautiful Lake Bled surrounded by the Julian Alps.

The weather was gorgeous, we listened to some oompah music by the lake and took loads of photos. We had coffee and cake in a café overlooking the lake which had robot kitty waiters followed by a lovely rowing boat trip across the lake to the monastery on the island in the middle of the lake. In the evening we had a final meal all together at Sestica restaurant - particularly notable for very large portions - BELLE END the only one capable of eating all her food. ENGINE was particularly overwhelmed by his Bear Goulash (yes, you did read that correctly). Our final evening was completed with a last visit to Pops Bar. We played spooF - Winnie(BARE) lost and didn't seem to enjoy her first experience of Slovenian Palinka (chosen by NODDY and paid for by WALLY).

Day Five - Homeward Bound

An uneventful journey home apart from a 45 minute delay and many of the group feeling a bit rough as a result too much drink during the weekend, not enough sleep, general sore throats and sniffles - some of which subsequently turned out to be COVID!!!

I am sure that everybody who attended would say that they had great fun - much of that was potentially because we spent the majority of time together as one group. Slovenia and Ljubljana are beautiful. That Slovenes are courteous and funny apart for one or two exceptions. Finally, a massive thank you to all those involved in arranging the weekend - transfers, flights, accommodation, restaurants, sightseeing, supporting, finances etc etc. Great team effort!

Official Run Times

NODDY - 10K - 1.08-14

LITTLE UNT - 10K - 1.37-43

BELLE END - HALF - 2.04-16
SCREAMER - HALF - 2.09-07
GOLDSILLOCKS - HALF - 2.30-55
WINNIE - HALF - 2.30-55
DATA - MARATHON - 3.37-41

Beachy Head Marathon Saturday 21 October 2023

This was my first ever marathon and it didn't disappoint, even in the torrential rain and wind! Standing on the start line staring at a hill resembling the escarpment the nerves well and truly kicked in. When we were overtaken in the first two miles by a man dressed in an enormous rhino costume a new determination set in - we could NOT be beaten by a rhino!

The food at each check point was a particular highlight and the support we received along the way was amazing. The rain and wind continued to come at us from all angles and the higher we went, the more intense it became. With just under 4,000ft of elevation there was no hiding from it but this didn't stop us from taking in the stunning scenery whilst chatting, laughing (possibly bordering on slight hysteria at times) and taking plenty of selfies.

We stuck to our plan of walking the big hills and running the flats and downhills and this certainly helped when tackling the Seven Sisters. I remember watching the lighthouse in the distance slowly get closer and closer knowing (and hoping) the finish wasn't too far away. The high when crossing the finish line made it all worthwhile and I can honestly say I loved every minute.

A big thank you to S&M, SLOPEY and DORA for the moral support and to EMBAA and DATA for all the training tips.
Oh and we beat the rhino!

Kent Cross Country League

Cross Country... The season so far...

On Saturday 14th October we had the first meet of the 23/24 Kent Cross Country League at Foots Cray Meadows. We had 4 ladies running, and 3 men. Unfortunately not enough men to make up a team to score.

Fortunately the weather was on our side during the races, and the terrain fairly dry however an undulating course which was uneven under foot.

The ladies team were up first and a great effort resulting in 12th in the leader board. The men put in a good performance, although I am sure HITCH could have shaved off some time if he wasn't high fiving the kids on every lap. Great support crew turn out, with lots of cheering to get us round the course.

The second meet of the season was on Saturday 28th October at Somerhill, Tonbridge. A very muddy course with a fair few hills... again we managed to get a ladies team out to score, but unfortunately not enough men to make the team of 4. The ladies raced first, with the sun shining on the start line, but the heavens opening with torrential rain during the race. All ladies managed to stay on their feet and maintain their 12th position standing out of 19 teams. The men were up next, and the course even muddier following the down pour. There was plenty of slipping and sliding with a similarity to Bambi on ice at times!

The next meet for the men is on Saturday 11th November at Danson Park and the ladies is Saturday 25th November at Swanley Park with the final event for both on Saturday 10th February 2024.

It isn't too late to sign up and join the team midway through the season. It would be great to get more involved. Please let me know if you would like to run, or if you have any questions.

There will also be 2 stand alone events - Kent Vets Championship (Sat 2nd Dec) and Kent Championship (Sat 6th Jan) - I will be emailing out once I have the details for these.

COMMANDO, Cross Country Team Captain

View From The Potty.....Alloween Ash 31st October 2023

So I had wanted to do this one for years, back in the day, when they had live actors roaming 'Madam Wood' with chainsaws & masks-n-stuff. Pre Covid, I actually called the Farm Shop to enquire about it...

Sept 2018:

POTTY: "Er...hello, is that Broaditch Farm shop & can I speak to someone about your "halloween nights"?"

Farm Shop: "yes...no problem, this is Mary speaking, how may I help you?"

POTTY: "Well, I'm from a local running club & I thought it would be a great idea to have about 30 or so of our club runners, go crashing through the wood, on a live scare night....would that be possible?"

Farm Shop "....." line goes goes dead

As such, I'm guessing that they didn't really like the idea, but *looking at the 'positives' from Covid...*the pandemic meant that the farm shop thankfully fired all of the teenage live actors and massively scaled back their 'scare nights' into something where they simply trundle kiddies around the track in the wood, on the back of a tractor! Armed with this info, I set about a renewed charm offensive and the owner (Mark) kindly agreed for us to use it. Manor Barn pub, were also very accomodating (prepped in advance) as the Sip Stop. I obviously didn't bother warning the Travelodge at all, which made the Down Downs, in their hotel reception area, all the more 'edgy'.

Knowing that I would need some serious assistance, with the scarers in the wood, I solicited the help of the assistant RA (SHREK) and formed an evil band of "Satan's Little Helpers". This crew, under SHREK's childlike guidance, were: DING DONG & MERRILY

CLARE & MORGAN

TREADERS & NIL

PARKER & BROWN-NOSE

Sadly MYSTIC MEG & DOUBLE ENTRY were recovering from Covid and had to sit this one out....a real shame as they had supplied a lot of the crew with bed linen

When I say, 'SHREK'S childlike guidance'I've never seen anyone get so excited, primarily about jumping out on a few hashers, & lobbing two dozen eggs.....he was a man possessed, buying smoke bombs, spare axes, fake blood, face masks, plus supplying both mood lighting and a sound system! TREADERS was a close second with his penchant for forensic crime scene Tyvek coveralls.

For example, from the WhatsApp:

SHREK: Maybe if we have DING DONG on the first bed..... being hacked (to death) by zombies in running gear.... they can rescue him.... and he can join the group..... then maybe MERRILY rescued at the 2nd one! Then they can (all) go (full) 'zombie' and egg them at the last prop from within the group 😊

POTTY: Am all for DING DONG being hacked to death.....but can't help but think we are over revving a little. Let's keep it simple, eh?

Also a massive assist from both GROPER (Hannibal Letcher) as Assistant Hare & special mention to Dr Evil (POPS) who coordinated the Sip Stop perfectly. A stout drink being required after the shenanigans in the woods.

Two full bags of flour to set the course, which (as per) was a complete waste of both time and flour, as the FRB's sped past the 1st two RG's and then the Fish hook (for 666). I had purposefully done the RG's & FH to S L O O O W the whole group down, being dark and GROPER plus I, trying to maintain control over the whole pack. Of course, what I overlooked (with it being dark) was that no one saw the sodding flour!

As we arrived (at relatively turbo pace) at Madam Wood, I ensured the group observed the final RG, before the 'fun' started. Sadly, the Satan's Little Helpers, couldn't control themselves, as they then started prematurely peppering the RG (over a tree line) with eggs. I had made some old nonsense up about the 'ghoulies firing Rectoplasm' ...in a form resembling eggs and with anyone 'Recto'd' then needing a Down Down....the Satan crew managed to get about 8 members, including MRS TUMBLE, who clearly was wearing eggshells in her barnet at the SS.

The pack passed several 'prop areas' which we had named:

- Zombie bed
- Dragons Den
- Skeleton Court
- Axe bar

Amid screams, smoke, RG's & of course, more eggs. Quite frankly it was sodding bedlam....pretty much as I had hoped.

The JB stop was the last prop area, and a chance for us to regroup and congratulate MERRILY who had transcended, somewhat magically, from a softly spoken lady and a pillar of the community of Culverstone, into a terrifying screaming banshee. Possibly screaming at the loss of her torch (thankfully re-united before the SS). The beers at the SS were a welcome relief from the tension in the woods. We were also treated to an impromptu 'Recto-plasm-ing' by PARKER. Eggs and shell littering the outdoor beer area. Beers consumed & 2 minute warnings observed, we made our way back to the Travelodge without further incident. The Down Downs a little stymied by both the weather, plus the flow of foot traffic in & out of the Travelodge, by the regular punters....if anything, we certainly made their trip to Gravesend a little more interesting....which says a lot for Gravesend.

Looking forward to next year's Halloween Hash already. A quick check of the calendar and it looks like 2024 is a year that will feature another Quidditch World Cup, so wizzard & witches, you've an 11 months to polish off your brooms and practice with your quaffles. Hopefully SPREADERS may be able to pop down (the +200 odd miles) to reprise his role as the Golden Snitch?

Thanks all that took part...it was (as intended) quite a scream

The Club Handicap

Thank you to everyone who took part in the Handicap this year. We now have nine runners to compete in the Grand Final on Sunday 19th November 11am from HQ HCC. The plan is to run the shortened H5 route that we used for the summer heats.

Important if any of the finalists are unable to make this date please let Data and I know as the next person in you group will then replace you in the final. The final is a first past the post format with usual handicapping of runners, that is FRB's out last.

Any questions please speak to me or Data.
